Post Trauma Resources, LLC

Not Just for Trauma . . .

Why has my doctor referred me to a trauma specialist?

While Post Trauma Resources has a proud history of trauma prevention & recovery, it is not all that we do. We continue to provide the most effective treatments to survivors of natural and man-made disasters but, since our founding, have expanded our services to help individuals, couples and families lead happier more fulfilling lives.

Having a provider who knows the necessary components of growth and change is only part of the equation. Just as important is the level of trust and hope your therapist can provide. Our intake coordinator will match you with the most appropriate provider to meet your needs. Call today. We can help.
